Introduction

Transforming ordinary moments into visuals that feel timeless

Neef Studios is a creative visual studio dedicated to telling meaningful stories through photography, film and cinematic visual experiences. We capture people, moments, brands and stories with a distinctive blend of authentic storytelling, cinematic composition and intentional visual direction.

From weddings and portraits to events, documentaries, brand campaigns and creative projects, Neef Studios transforms ordinary moments into visuals that feel timeless. The brand sits at the intersection of art, storytelling and emotion — creating work that doesn't simply document what happened, but communicates how it felt.

Logo

Logo

Symbol

The precise point where raw light and vision are captured and transformed into lasting digital stories.

Logomark

The Neef Studios' logomark is built from the brand initial "N" and the geometry of a camera sensor — the point where light becomes image.

Its form represents capture, focus and transformation, reflecting Neef Studios' approach to turning fleeting moments into intentional visual stories.

Bold, minimal and highly recognizable, the mark is designed to work as a distinct signature across film, photography, digital platforms and physical applications.

Scale

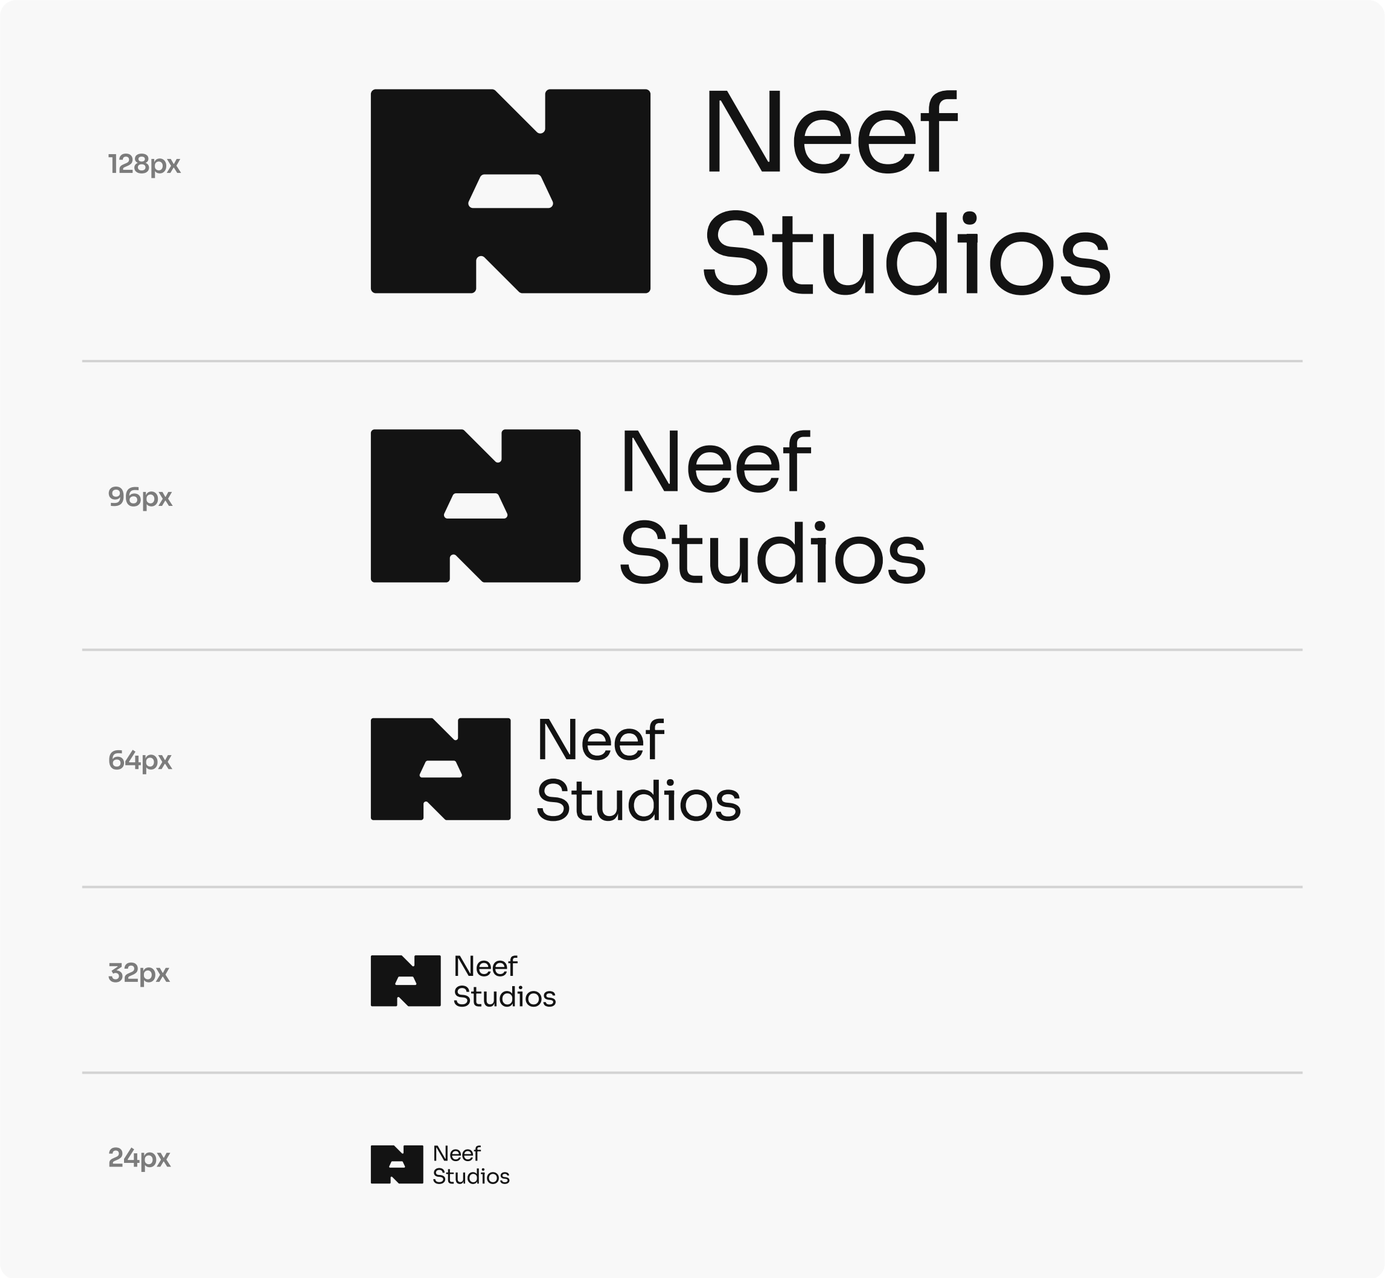

The Neef Studios' logomark is designed to remain clear and recognizable across a wide range of sizes. Its simple geometry allows it to scale confidently from large-format applications to compact digital use.

Shown here at 128px, 96px, 64px, 32px, 24px the mark should always retain its original proportions and sufficient surrounding space.

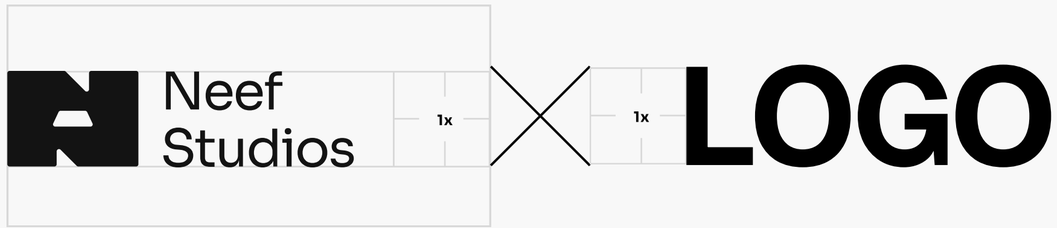

Minimum Size

To preserve clarity and recognition, the Neef Studios logomark should not be reproduced below 24px wide in digital applications. Wherever possible, use the mark at 32px or larger to maintain the integrity of its internal sensor detail.

For print, a sensible minimum would be approximately 8 mm high.

Colors

Colors

Our palette is intentionally restrained, balancing cinematic depth with warmth and refinement.

Charcoal and White form the foundation of the identity, creating contrast, clarity and a timeless visual presence. Beige introduces softness and humanity, while Gold acts as a selective accent, adding warmth, distinction and a subtle sense of premium craft.

The palette should feel minimal, editorial and cinematic rather than decorative. Charcoal and White should dominate most applications, with Beige and Gold used more sparingly to create hierarchy, emphasis and warmth.

Recommended Usage

Primary: Charcoal + White
Secondary: Beige
Accent: Gold

Gold should be used intentionally rather than extensively, reserved for moments that require emphasis, distinction or a premium touch.

Colors

Our color scale extends the core palette into lighter tonal values, creating flexibility without introducing additional colors. These variations can be used for backgrounds, typography hierarchy, overlays, dividers and supporting graphic elements.

Use the 100% values for primary brand expression, while lighter tones should remain secondary and functional.

Recommended Scale

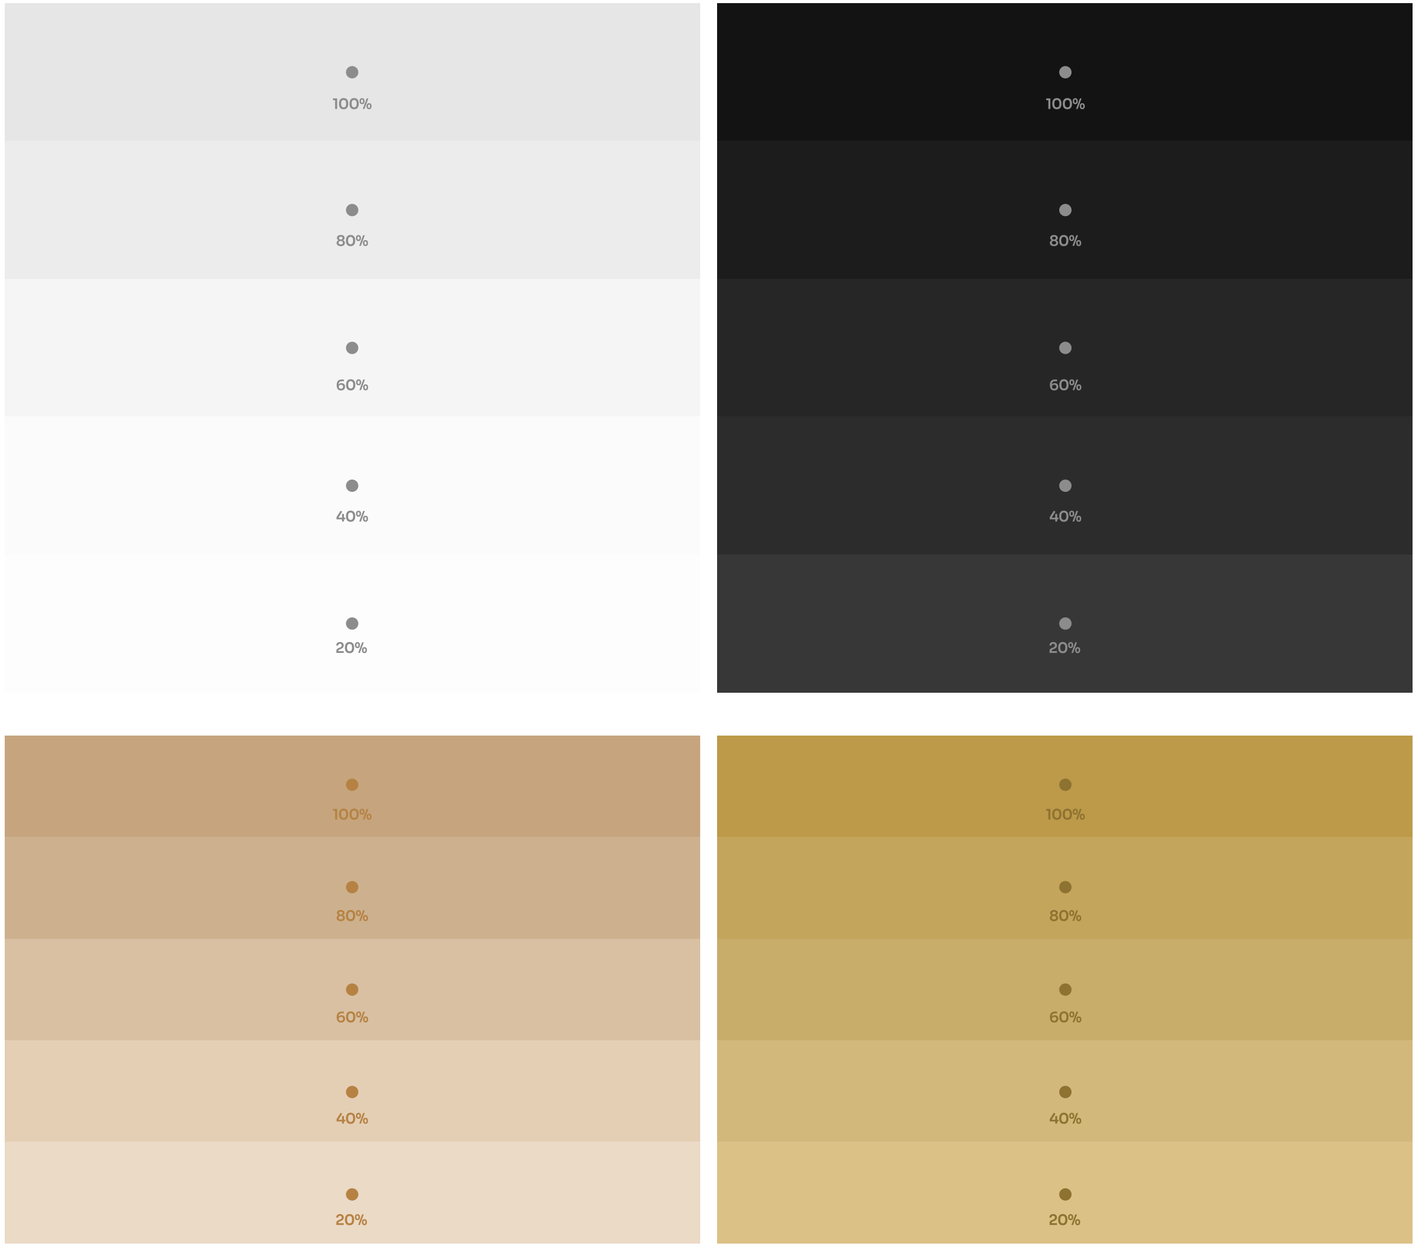

100% — Primary: Full-strength brand color for key backgrounds, typography and signature applications.

80% — Strong: For secondary surfaces, overlays and supporting graphic elements.

60% — Mid: For subtle emphasis, secondary information and softer compositions.

40% — Soft: For muted backgrounds, dividers and understated details.

20% — Light: For very subtle backgrounds and low-contrast applications.

Typography

Primary Typeface

Sora

Sora is the primary typeface of the identity. Clean, contemporary and highly legible, it is used for headlines, body copy, captions and functional communication.

Its geometric structure gives the brand a confident, modern voice while remaining neutral enough to let the imagery lead.

Best used for:

Headlines, body text, captions, digital interfaces and informational content.

Secondary Typeface

RCL Arviel

RCL Arviel introduces a more expressive and editorial layer to the identity. Its distinctive character brings elegance, emotion and a sense of authorship to selected brand moments.

It should be used selectively rather than as a replacement for Sora.

Best used for:
Hero statements, campaign titles, editorial moments, pull quotes and expressive brand messaging.
